

Objective

This tip sheet provides instructions to Extended Enterprise Learners to activate their Workday Learning accounts and Penn students who do not have current student jobs in Workday to switch from their Extended Enterprise accounts to Student Recruiting to find and apply for student jobs.

Contents

Page

Important Definitions	1
Activate Your Extended Enterprise Learner Account	1
Switch to Student Recruiting from Extended Enterprise Learner	1

Important Definitions

Extended Enterprise Learners:

Extended Enterprise Learners are members of the Penn community who have a PennKey/Password but do not have employment records in Workday under which they receive University pay or benefits.

Extended Enterprise Learners have access to Workday Learning because they have a position at the University that requires training.

Extended Enterprise Learners may be Penn students who are not employed by the University as student workers, academic affiliates who are not paid by the University, service providers, and other non-Penn individuals.

Penn Students Who Are Not Student Workers:

Penn students who do not have a current student job in Workday but need training can access Workday Learning as an Extended Enterprise Learner.

Penn students who do not have a current student job in Workday can search for and apply to student jobs by accessing student recruiting in Workday. Follow the instructions in this document to switch to Student Recruiting from Extended Enterprise Learner.

Penn Students who have current student jobs in Workday can access Workday Learning from the Learning app on their Menu in Workday

Activate Your Extended Enterprise Learner Account

1. Log into Workday. Link: <https://www.myworkday.com/upenn/login.html>
2. From the Workday homepage, find the Announcements section.
3. Click on the announcement called Activate Learning Account.
4. When the popup window appears, click the button Activate Learning Account.

Switch to Student Recruiting from Extended Enterprise Learner

1. Log into Workday. Link: <https://www.myworkday.com/upenn/login.html>
2. From the Workday homepage, find the Announcements section.
3. Click on the announcement called Access Student Recruiting.
4. When the popup window appears, click the button Access Student Recruiting.